Five Senses

We have five senses that helps us experience the world around us: touch, taste, smell, sight, and hearing.

This month, Elf class will continue to learn and identify smell, taste, and sight by means of experiments and fun activities.

Month Song: Mr. Knickerbocker

Hey Mr. Knickerbocker, boppity-bop
I like-a the way that you boppity-bop
I like-a the way that you boppity-bop with your hands!
(Clap hands to rhythm)

Fun facts

Around 80% of what we think is taste is actually smell.

Flavor, is a combination of taste and smell perception. Test this yourself by holding your nose closed the next time you eat something, can you taste it very well? Chances are you can't.
